About Us

Why Choose Coalville Kitchens?

Owned and operated by Luke & Kate Wedgbury, Coalville Kitchens is a family run business, proudly designing and fitting luxury bespoke kitchens in Leicestershire since 2011. Prior to establishing Coalville, Luke's background was kitchen installation and installation management, providing a wealth of knowledge and experience built over a 23 year period.

Committed To Our Customers

As a husband and wife team, our business has naturally evolved to operate along the same guiding principles upheld by our family: mutual respect, integrity and concern for the needs of our clients. We are active members of our community, and we are passionately committed to serving the people of Leicestershire. Being independent also means that we can be different. When you visit us at Coalville Kitchens, we will not try to sell you a kitchen but instead work with you towards accomplishing your ideal design. We promise no pressure and no hassle, assisting as much or as little as you desire or need.

Our Team

Our expert kitchen design team encompasses 3 highly skilled designers with many years of experience; we even have an artist by trade, with a keen eye for detail! Our Showroom Manager, Jo, is usually the first point of contact when clients visit, and we also have 3 teams of expert kitchen installers. All of our team are welcoming, personable, and will offer their assistance in any way possible.

Gloss Kitchens

Gloss kitchen doors create a luxury, modern look, whilst their lustrous shine ensures an inviting kitchen feel. Smooth, high quality gloss kitchen doors also effectively reflect light as it hits their surface to make a kitchen feel brighter and more spacious. This is an important element of kitchen planning and particularly for smaller kitchens where space maximising is an essential part of the planning process. Typically stylish, fresh and modern, an extensive range of gloss colours and finishes ensures many different styles are achievable. And of course, all of our finishes can be mixed- be it different colours from within the same gloss range, or gloss doors with contrasting materials like wood or matt. Our designers have decades of experience in working with clients to create such blended schemes- ensuring you can achieve the gloss kitchen look that is both unique and personal to you

A matt kitchen finish provides a smooth texture to kitchen units and surfaces but without the shine and deep reflections featured in high gloss kitchen finishes. Matt finishes can successfully create subtle, understated kitchen designs, achieving a true sense of refined luxury. Matt kitchens are easy to maintain, extremely durable and can also be more resistant to fingerprints and marks. As a result of these factors, they are a very popular choice and Coalville Kitchens provide a staggering range of styles and colours in a matt finish.

Matt Kitchens

Wood Kitchens

Available in a wide range of tones, textures and grains, wood kitchen finishes make an excellent choice for the home. Meeting current demand for modern wood kitchen accents, Coalville Kitchens have an extensive range of wood kitchen finishes to suit all different spaces, tastes and budgets. Whether for a country property or contemporary home extension, by itself or in a multi tone arrangement, we know exactly which wood kitchen finishes will produce the look you want to achieve. We understand which grains add character, which colour tones will dominate, and which will create a softer, more understated look. We also fully understand which styles will beautifully complement other furniture materials and colours within the home.

Ceramic & Stone Kitchens

In recent years kitchen trends have seen a move towards matt finishes, and particularly towards textured matt kitchen surfaces which are stylish and sophisticated but at the same time, comfortable, enjoyable and low-maintenance. The increasing popularity of the Urban Industrial kitchen theme has also sparked the interest of incorporating textured kitchen finishes, and combining with other materials within the same space. Ceramic, Stone and Concrete kitchens are a prime example of this, adding depth and tonal contrast whether alone or in conjunction with other materials, be it glass, wood, or even metallic kitchen accents. Coalville Kitchens have successfully transformed ordinary designs into functional and sought after kitchen spaces, indicative of chic beauty with urban style. Browse through our collections to find out more.

Metallic Kitchens

Bringing a bold injection of glamour to the kitchen environment, metallic kitchens are very much on trend. These eye-catching, luxury doors can be incorporated as a standalone statement kitchen, or else used in conjunction with other kitchen units and materials for an impressive kitchen contrast. Coalville Kitchens our offer an array of metallic kitchen finishes ranging from glass to brushed lacquered doors, and in a choice of beautiful metallic tones. To view our modern metallic kitchen range please visit our showroom.

Shaker Kitchens

In recent years the Shaker kitchen style has experienced a well-deserved boom in popularity amongst homeowners and industry experts alike! At Coalville Kitchens our team have certainly experienced an increase in demand and not least because they look great and represent excellent quality, but also because they work equally well for utility and bathrooms as they do for kitchens. Shaker doors have been around for a long time but now firmly back on everyone's radar, at Coalville Kitchens we're certain this is a style that's set to stay and here's why...

Shaker Kitchen Craftsmanship

...Choose a Shaker kitchen design and you will buy into a fascinating heritage of purposeful design and superior quality workmanship. Originally created by the Christian Shakers (to supposedly keep them busy and free from sin) they developed a rare and highly-skilled level of carpentry. This build quality has remained and as such Shaker kitchen styles are now synonymous with supreme craftsmanship and durability. At Coalville Kitchens we combine our vast technical design knowledge with the German build quality to exhibit those very same principles.

Handleless Kitchens

With an unrivalled range of handleless kitchen products and depth of experience in designing and installing them, the Coalville Kitchens Team feel we can justly call ourselves experts within this field. Catering for budgets ranging from £10,000 to over £50,000, our high quality handleless kitchens are possible within almost every door in our range, and in a wide variety of colours and materials. This includes all of our gloss, matt, stone, ceramic and concrete doors, as well as the majority of our wood doors.

Working with some of the most innovative partners in the interior design industry and being passionate about fresh, elegant modernity ourselves, we are well placed to design your kitchen featuring the very latest in modern kitchen design.

Modern Kitchens

Modern Kitchens- An Expression Of The Best From Today And Tomorrow

Kitchen design evolves far faster than most people realise, but modern should not mean fashionable- after all today's fashions can be tomorrow's hand-me-downs. Modernity at its best is a current visualisation of future design classics...or indeed a reinterpretation of yesterday's design classics. Modern technology has allowed us to use materials never before accessible for kitchen design; stone veneers, super thin yet super strong concretes, satin lacquer paints that ooze refined luxury and are a pleasure to touch.

In-frame Kitchens

For many, the kitchen is the most important room in the house, so when it comes to renovating, you don’t want to compromise on style or quality. we employ traditional manufacturing techniques to create a sturdy robust and beautiful cabinet design that is built to last.

Why Choose An In-Frame Kitchen?

Choosing a framed product will give you peace of mind that you have put the longest lasting and most elegant furniture into your kitchen space that money can buy.

Recognised for the craftsmanship that goes into them, in-frame kitchens provide you with a beautiful, streamlined design. The style is composed of slightly smaller doors that sit within the cabinet frame attached to exposed butt hinges or concealed soss hinges, with precise measurements taken to ensure that the door sits perfectly within the carcass.

Although in-frame kitchens have been found in homes for hundreds of years, the unrivalled craftsmanship has boosted their appeal in recent years thanks to their flexibility with colour and design. In addition, the durability has meant that they’ve become a popular choice for those who are considering a kitchen renovation.

Traditional Kitchens

Our kitchens can combine the best of traditional style and carpentry with modern manufacturing, meaning the best of both worlds. Our designs can feature ornate pilasters, cornice and pelmets, but also have modern pull-out mechanisms, sturdy soft-close drawer runners and accessible corner storage.

Elements Of Traditional Beauty

Tongue and grooved panels, inlaid doors, ornate pilasters and detailed carvings are the hallmarks of traditional kitchen design- celebrating the best of craftsmanship in cabinet making. We can design from a full range of eye-pleasing features to produce a look in keeping with your period home.

Modern Country Kitchens

Whilst traditional kitchens are very beautiful, traditional doesn't need to mean 'old-fashioned'...long gone are the days when Gingham curtains constituted a country kitchen! Instead we combine ultra-modern, integrated appliances with traditional elements to create the perfect, stylish country kitchen. Our painted wood kitchen cabinets are available in many modern colours such as the Pearl grey, Lava grey, Graphite – and very on trend – Velvet Blue kitchen door. These contemporary colours will instantly modernise this more traditional style of kitchen door. Blending modern with traditional elements within a kitchen is often referred to as a Transitional kitchen style. Other ways you can enhance this look further include incorporating a metallic tiled splashback, accessorising with on trend materials such as copper, rose gold and bronze, or you can even colour-match your handles to your chosen door colour, creating a chic and minimal modern look.

Our Kitchen Colours

Dark Kitchens | Light Kitchens | Grey Kitchens | Pastel Kitchens | Vibrant Kitchens

Dark Kitchens

Moody and brooding, darker kitchens are very much on trend with a proliferation of materials and shades that can be used to create the most dramatic of designs. Our Coalville Kitchens designer team can work with you to craft a dark kitchen design scheme of unique elegance for you.

Dark Kitchen Trends

First up, and very notable is the use of dark kitchen tones, and specifically dark matt kitchens in moody greys or black. Muted dark tones have soared in popularity in recent years as homeowners are embracing the dark side to become bolder with their choices (or else more trusting of their designers!) Minimalist matt doors such as our ultra smooth black satin lacquer require no embellishment for a sophisticated look, but equally the layering of richly textured surfaces bring depth and character to a dark setting. You can achieve beautiful pairings of dark doors with natural elements such as wood, stone, ceramic and glass. Splashes of warm wood, marble, contrasting greys, taupe or warm metallic accents are all excellent choices for achieving a striking kitchen with welcoming appeal.

Coalville Kitchens have a wide range of light coloured doors in gloss, matt, stone, wood, and shaker. Choose from white, brilliant white, cream, taupe, light-grey, as well as calacatta stone, light oak, beech, maple, sand-oak and more.

Light Kitchens

Light Woods

Tongue and grooved panels, inlaid doors, ornate pilasters and detailed carvings are the hallmarks of traditional kitchen design- celebrating the best of craftsmanship in cabinet making. We can design from a full range of eye-pleasing features to produce a look in keeping with your period home.

Light-Coloured Stone And Stone Look Kitchens

Unimaginable just a few years ago, kitchen door fronts can now be manufactured from real stone veneers, thin concrete, and even sintered stone with the look of Calacatta marble. This has brought incredible visual interest to lighter kitchens whilst maintaining their signature bright and airy feel.

Grey Kitchens

A popular choice for clients, grey kitchens make a beautiful and timeless addition for the home. Within the past decade, grey tones have really come to the forefront of interior trends; admirable for their elegance, neutrality and calming façade. Grey is also very easy to work with, which is reassuring for homeowners as they embark on projects which prove both a costly and highly personal investment. To this end, Coalville Kitchens offer a generous range of grey kitchen tones ranging from very light, to mid-grey, as well as moody, dark greys at the opposite end of the grey colour spectrum. And along with our array of grey kitchen tones, we also have an impressive selection of grey finishes. This includes high gloss, matt, glass, wood, stone and concrete grey kitchen doors and worktops.

Pastel Kitchens

Pastel colours are created by adding white to a primary colour in order to create a lower colour saturation. The effect of this is they are light and calming, which makes pastels the perfect choice for a kitchen environment. At Coalville Kitchens we have a wide range of pastel kitchen colours you can choose from, and which are available in a variety of finishes and door styles.

Matching Pastel Colour Tones

The lightness of pastel shades make them suitable for use in conjunction with a wide range of materials and colours. Here you can see the pastel blue doors with the light wood worktop. The colour's neutrality makes shade matching easy and produces beautiful results.

Vinbrant Kitchens

Bring a splash of colour and a dash of joy to your home using the brighter colours from our kitchen range, either for the kitchen doors themselves or for individual features you want to stand out!

Bright Feature Walls

A delicious addition to your design, just let your designer know that you want to see options for a brightly coloured feature wall. These can be great when adding some energy and personality into your kitchen, as shown here with the vibrant red wall.

Creative Use Of Colour

The kitchen furniture isn't the only place you can add colour in your kitchen. In this photo you can see how the plant-styled splashback livens the grey stone doors. Our experts can work with you using a colour wheel tool to identify colours that go with our kitchen door finishes, achieving bright and beautifully harmonised designs.

You can add colour on walls, accessories, splashbacks and soft furnishings; you can even use coloured LED's for statement lighting effects, and which can easily be changed in the future without having to change your kitchen.

With a wide selection of high-end finishes, modern fittings, and clever storage solutions, we ensure that each design blends luxury and functionality with enduring style.

Project Management: Client Journey

1. Initial Consultation:
   Private showroom visit to explore styles and finishes, followed by a coffee chat. With a rough sketch and measurements, designers create ideas on the spot and give an early cost estimate.

2. Home Visit:
   Designers assess your space, take detailed measurements, and advise on finishes, colours, tiles, and lighting. Every design is reviewed by the full team for accuracy and fresh insight.

3. Design Presentation:
   You receive professional design visuals, printouts, and a detailed quotation.

4. Place Order:
   Once approved, the order is placed with specialist suppliers for units, appliances, and materials.

5. Kitchen Installation:
   In-house teams (not contractors) handle removal, disposal, plastering, plumbing, electrics, and minor building works. They are uniformed, highly skilled, and fully equipped.

6. Aftercare:
   Daily progress updates, temporary cooking facilities, and installer porta-loos minimise disruption. Work is checked regularly, you grade the installers, and a lifetime installation warranty ensures lasting peace of mind.

Dave Taylor

We are both delighted with our new kitchen and utility room. We had been considering going down the DIY route and also had various quotes from the national companies (Wren, Howdens and Magnet). Unfortunately, each one could not accommodate our requirements in one way or another.

Eve was very patient with us as we changed our minds on a few things during the planning process. She also assured us that the fitter would be able to fulfill ALL of our requirements, nonetheless we were still a little dubious.

However, our fitter Patrick, fully understood what we wanted and being a perfectionist and magician, made it happen! He was easy going, nothing seemed too much trouble for him and his attention to detail was admirable. He was also a clean and tidy worker. He really is skilled craftsman not "just a kitchen fitter".

Coalville kitchens were competitively priced and Eve took all the hassle of project managing it from start to finish, making it far less stressful than it could have been if we had gone down one of the other routes.

Having a new kitchen can be a very daunting process but we would be more than happy to recommend you. So thank you to all the team at Coalville Kitchens.
