way to start your kitchen journey*

Who Is My Kitchen Specialist?

My Kitchen Specialist is here to help.

We are an independent kitchen advice service that helps homeowners make confident, informed decisions before they commit to a kitchen supplier.

We don't sell kitchens.
We help you choose the right people to buy one from.

Planning a new kitchen should be exciting — not confusing.

Yet many homeowners feel overwhelmed by:

- Endless choice
- Conflicting advice
- Unclear pricing
- Not knowing which kitchen company is actually right for them

What Makes Us Different?

Advice first.
Pressure last.

Rather than pushing you into showrooms or specific brands, we take time to understand what you actually want from your new kitchen.

We help you:

- Clarify your style and priorities
- Understand what's realistic for your budget
- Avoid unsuitable suppliers
- Start conversations with the right kitchen specialists from day one

Think of us as a knowledgeable sounding board — on your side.

Our Process

How My Kitchen Specialist works:

1. Talk to us

We start with a relaxed, no-obligation conversation about your kitchen plans.

2. Understand your needs

Your space, style, budget and expectations all matter — so we listen carefully.

3. Point you in the right direction

We guide you towards kitchen specialists and suppliers that are genuinely suited to your project.

4. Move forward with confidence

You can speak to suppliers knowing you're asking the right questions and exploring the right options.

Why This Approach Works

The right start makes all the difference

Choosing the wrong kitchen supplier can lead to:

- Poor design outcomes
- Unexpected costs
- Delays and frustration
- Compromises you didn't expect to make

By starting with independent advice, you reduce risk and increase the chances of a smoother, more enjoyable kitchen project.
